

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

The Examiner's Amendment to claim 14 contains a grammatical/typographical error in referring to "a bolt holes." This amendment merely changes "holes" to "hole" to correct the error. The change has no bearing on the scope of the allowed claims. As such, no further consideration and/or search are required by the Examiner. Accordingly, entry under 37 C.F.R. § 312 is requested.

Additionally, the identifier in this Amendment, i.e., "Previously Presented," indicates amendments to the claims made by the Examiner in the Examiner's Amendment dated April 29, 2006, which was included with the Notice of Allowability of this application.

Finally, to the extent the Examiner's reasons for allowance do not reflect the subject matter of each independent claim, applicants disagree with those reasons.

Respectfully submitted,

NIXON & VANDERHYE P.C.
